Learn about the principles of good teamwork and how the five interconnected behaviors work together to create a positive framework for building cohesive teams. Understand how to use the five behavior model to improve your team.

After this seminar, you take your teams to the next level!

TIME MANAGEMENT DISC TIME MASTERY PROFILE

Time management means self-management: We need appropriate behaviors to gain control over time. Good results are due to good habits – learn to steer them.

That's what our DiSC Time Mastery Profile seminar is all about: Examine your usual time management behavior and find out if your habits are helping or hindering you.

Analyze your skills gaps and create action plans that show you the way to use your time more efficiently.
